STORY

Shiori (Anna Ishibashi) wakes up to a strange noise coming from four 10 yen coins issued in Showa 63 (1988) that are shaking violently.

Shiori reads her mother's diary and finds out that her classmates died in a gas accident in Showa 63 (1988) when they were high school freshman. Today is their death anniversary. Her mother's school is closed now and scheduled to be demolished. Shiori decides to visit the school on behalf of her mother.

A mysterious phenomenon starts to occur in high school, as students of freshman start to gossip about the gas accident. A human figure in the gymnasium... Spooky breathing from the closed classroom...

Meanwhile, some teenagers sneak into the closed school to shoot and upload a fake horror video to the Internet. One of them tells his friends about "Fox's Window", which is believed to show the spirit world, and something happens when one girl tries to see through the "Fox's Window".
